Part III - Statement of Program Service Accomplishments

Mission

To protect the wildlife, wild places, and community character of Jackson Hole.

Organizational Overview

For over three and a half decades the Jackson Hole Conservation Alliance has worked to protect the wildlife, wild places, and community character of Jackson Hole.

In Fiscal Year 2015 (FY15) the Alliance released AGENDA 22, an uncensored vision of a better future for Jackson Hole and a roadmap for empowering our community to become a national model of living in balance with nature. To advance AGENDA 22 and create a better future, we integrate focused issue advocacy campaigns, intentional base building, leadership development, targeted education efforts, and accountability work.

We believe in advancing balanced solutions that constructively respond to the big challenges we face, holding our elected representatives accountable for making decisions in the best long-term interest of our community, and having honest conversations about the long-term consequences of our decisions based on facts and data.

Better Jackson Hole

The Better Jackson Hole program exists to secure funding for investments in the permanent protection of open space and wildlife habitat, walking-bicycling-transit infrastructure and operations, and housing affordable to people who work in Jackson Hole.

As a community we value protecting the critical wildlife habitat and open spaces that define our valley; dealing with our traffic congestion by providing people with transportation choices through investments in public transportation, bicycling, and walking; and ensuring that at least two thirds of the people who work in Jackson Hole are able to live here. Yet we have not yet implemented the policy tools or made the investments necessary to advance these values.

In FY15 the Alliance took the first steps toward the development and coordination of a broad and diverse coalition of conservation, transportation, housing, business, and social service organizations that will work toward laying the necessary policy foundation and then ultimately securing dedicated revenue for investments in protecting open space and wildlife habitat, transportation improvements, and housing affordable to people who work here.

Civic Engagement

The Civic Engagement program exists to foster a more effective and accountable local government by engaging Teton County residents in our civic process.

In FY15 the Alliance launched a civic engagement program to advance a conservation agenda through 501(c)3 participation in the electoral process. This program builds on our 35-year history of working to protect our wildlife, wild places and community character through community engagement and lobbying, and also leverages our successful Conservation Leadership Institute training program.

In the first two years the Alliance is developing a 501(c)3 civic engagement program to identify statewide conservation voters and engage Teton County residents in local elections and decision-making. In early 2015, we started building out data systems and a "conservation voter" model, setting up a vote tracking database, and planning a community-wide survey known as the "Jackson Poll." We continue developing local campaign leaders through the Conservation Leadership Institute (CLI) and we have begun outreach to underrepresented constituent groups such as young people and the Latino community. In 2016, we will leverage those resources to educate voters and get out the vote for conservation issues.

Don't Poach the Powder

The Don't Poach the Powder (DPTP) program exists to encourage winter recreation enthusiasts to avoid critical seasonal wildlife closures and migration pathways.

Don't Poach the Powder began in 2001 as a campaign to promote important winter closures of backcountry areas. Since then, the slogan and campaign "Don't Poach the Powder" has become part of the vernacular in Jackson Hole. The campaign has primarily focused on recreationalists who use areas in or near public lands that require particular attention due to the extra sensitive nature of the wildlife who use these areas as habitat. In spring 2012, the program expanded to include the closure of specific pathways (through April 30, or another appropriate date determined through science and research, each year), especially along the Elk Refuge north of town. Although the message has had its impact on long-time area residents, Jackson Hole also experiences a significant tourist and seasonal-resident base each year, necessitating a repeat of the message each season.

The media used include newspaper (print) ads, radio ads, and Internet ads. All of the ads drive readers/listeners to visit the website (jhalliance.org/dontpoach) for map downloads.

This program is a collaborative effort with our partners at the Bridger-Teton National Forest, Caribou-Targhee National forest, Grand Teton National Park, and the National Elk Refuge, Wyoming Game and Fish Department, as well as the Greater Yellowstone Coalition and Jackson Hole Eco Tour Adventures.

Education and Outreach

Communications

Weekly Conservation Chronicle

We send a weekly newsletter called Conservation Chronicle to approximately 2,500 people. The content provides up to date information about time sensitive issues and offers ways the community can get involved, events and public meeting opportunities, and other community-wide information that the Alliance feels the community should know about. The Alliance has seen on average a 28% open rate of the e-newsletter, which is significantly higher than average for mass e-mail newsletter communication devices.

Conservation and Community Magazine

We print a glossy magazine twice annually and distribute it to 2,000 of our supporters and also make it available across Jackson Hole.

The summer 2014 edition highlighted our upcoming 35th Anniversary celebration, a new approach focused on constructively addressing the big challenges facing our community, our Conservation Leadership, Internship, Wild Neighborhoods, and Wildlife Crossings programs.

The winter 2014 / spring 2015 edition launched AGENDA 22, an uncensored vision of a better future for Jackson Hole and how we can make our community a national model of living in balance with nature. AGENDA 22 explains the big challenges we face as a community, a positive vision of responding to these challenges, balanced solutions we can adopt to achieve this vision, stories of people working to make this vision reality, indicators we can use to measure our progress toward this vision, and tangible things people can do to help make it happen. In addition to mailing this magazine to 2,000 of our supporters, we included it as an insert in the Jackson Hole News & Guide.

Community Engagement and Events

35th Anniversary Celebration

On September 21, 2014, hundreds of people packed the Center for the Arts for our 35th anniversary celebration. The evening featured great food and drink, both a live and silent auction, opportunities to volunteer with ten of our organizational friends who are working toward a better future, and the premier of an original film highlighting thirteen people who are strengthening our community's roots through their everyday actions.

Annual Meeting

On January 21, 2014, over one hundred and fifty people packed into Hansen Hall at St John's Episcopal Church for our Annual Meeting to learn more about AGENDA 22 and how they can get involved in creating a better future for Jackson Hole. The event featured keynote speaker Beth Conover, the author and editor of "How the West was Warmed: Responding to Climate Change in the Rockies," a compilation of essays by journalists and policymakers.

Internship Program

The Alliance's Internship Program furthers our commitment to training the next generation of community members who will be able to professionally help create a better future for Jackson Hole. Through an employment based internship program, the Alliance shapes the experiences and skills of young people through hands-on opportunities to build their career in conservation. The internship program reaches conservation-minded young people and helps young adults find the role they can play in helping make Jackson Hole a national model of a community living in balance with nature.

Since its inception in 1979, the Alliance has employed nearly fifty interns during the summer months, and occasionally throughout the year. Interns who have come through the Alliance's program have gone on to serve in a variety of positions throughout the county, or to continue their education for post-graduate opportunities. The program teaches young people the details of conservation advocacy by giving them a place at the table inside a dedicated, talented organization. The internships cultivate a functional balance between personal initiative and organizational responsibility. Every intern that participates in the Alliance's program learns that idealism can become a reality.

During the summer of 2014, the Alliance had the fortune of employing one intern who helped coordinate our 35th anniversary celebration.

Number of supporters

The Alliance prides itself in being one of the largest conservation organizations in Jackson Hole. That primarily is defined as the organization with most people involved as supporters (both financial and as people involved in supporting our mission) as well as the number of people on staff and our budget size. Currently we have approximately 500 active donors who supported us in FY15. We also have ~2,500 individuals who are a part of our e-mail communications, and who actively work to support the programs of the Alliance.

Conservation Leadership Institute

The Conservation Leadership Institute exists to develop and empower leaders with the skills, network, and knowledge necessary to help us achieve our programmatic goals.

Launched in the fall of 2013, this program empowers participants with the skills and knowledge to organize, advocate, and hold local decision-makers accountable for building a better future for Jackson Hole. The Conservation Leadership Institute (CLI) is an eight-week course that starts with the basics of conservation organizing and progresses each week as participants learn and practice new skills. Each workshop provides a skills training, an opportunity to practice applying these skills, and VIP guest speakers covering specific issue areas. Throughout the course CLI participants apply their skills by developing a draft campaign plan for building a network of wildlife crossings in Jackson Hole. 20 participants graduated in 2013, 15 completed the second round in spring 2014, and 14 graduated in fall 2014. The fourth round began in April 2015 with another 15 participants.

Alliance staff meet one-on-one with every CLI graduate to get them engaged in one of our programs and campaigns and identify potential future CLI participants. Many graduates are active leaders in Alliance programs, including Wildlife Crossings and Civic Engagement. Alliance staff also review the evaluations from each workshop and the final course evaluation and use this feedback to improve the class for subsequent offerings of the program.

Neighbors with Nature (Community Planning)

The Neighbors with Nature program exists to support the crafting and enforcing of land use rules that encourage walkable neighborhoods surrounded by protected open space, working agricultural lands, and connected wildlife habitat.

Founded over three and a half decades ago as the Alliance for Responsible Planning, the Alliance has profoundly influenced the way that Jackson Hole has developed. With the adoption of the Jackson / Teton County Comprehensive Plan in 2012 our community has a foundation from which to craft and enforce land use rules that encourage walkable neighborhoods surrounded by protected open space, working agricultural lands, and connected wildlife habitat.

Land Development Regulations Updates

Administrative

Core to the Alliance's Community Planning program is working to ensure updates to our land development regulations reflect our community's vision as articulated in the 2012 Jackson / Teton County Comprehensive Plan (comp plan). Currently, too much growth is occurring in rural Teton County while too little is occurring in complete neighborhoods (like the Town of Jackson) resulting in fragmented and degraded wildlife habitat, a loss of open space, costly infrastructure expansions, and continued challenges to providing land for affordable housing which directly impacts our community character.

This pattern of growth results from our current land development regulations (LDRs) not reflecting our community's vision of shifting growth from rural Teton County into complete neighborhoods. As the Town of Jackson and Teton County are well into their process of updating the LDRs, the Alliance works closely with a diversity of groups, including elected officials and planning staff, other allied organizations, and a wide range of concerned citizens to ensure these updates reflect our community's vision as articulated in the comp plan. We will continue this work over the coming years as we work through the entire LDR update process.

This past year the Alliance worked with a coalition of allied organizations and saw to it that the first round draft of the administrative LDRs rewrite was redone to take out all the elements that did not implement our community vision. This was a success story and put the Alliance and our allied organizations in a more powerful and respected position with the Town and County for the remaining LDR revisions, which will span the next several years. These provisions regulate the use and preservation on the 3% of private lands in our valley, where the only development occurs, as the other 97% is federally protected land.

Rural

The update to our rural LDRs is the primary policy tool for reducing the amount of development in the County, conserving habitat, protecting wildlife, and preserving scenic views. The Alliance reviewed drafts of the rural LDRs and provided comments and suggestions to help better implement the comp plan. We commented on and will work with local officials and staff to ensure our land development regulations direct growth out of rural areas into walkable neighborhoods, to better protect fish and wildlife habitat, habitat connectivity, open spaces, scenic vistas and rural character, while strengthening wildlife protection standards for development density, intensity, location, clustering, permeability and wildlife-human conflict and we will help identify and implement additional options for the acquisition of permanent open space for wildlife habitat protection, scenic vista protection and agriculture preservation.

The Alliance began work on a study regarding the obstacles to transfer of development rights out of the rural areas and into complete neighborhoods, to ascertain if transfer of development rights is an option for our density goals of moving potential density out of the rural areas and into complete neighborhoods, as called for by our comp plan.

Downtown and Lodging Overlay

The Lodging Overlay is a Town of Jackson zoning category that defines the locations where lodging uses are allowed. It also defines the type of lodging permitted, such as hotels, bed and breakfast, or short-term rental houses. The Alliance spoke up against expansion of the Lodging Overlay and will continue this opposition. Our research into economic indicators points to a surplus in the existing lodging supply. Allowing more lodging development would further increase the jobs/housing imbalance in our community, making housing less affordable, bringing more traffic and increasing the potential for wildlife collisions. Anywhere lodging and short term rentals are allowed, mainly in our downtown core, housing will not be built, as the other two uses have a higher rate of return.

The Alliance is pushing for housing in our downtown, to make it the most complete community, walkable, open 24/7, vibrant, full of residents and visitors with most of the services people need. We have pushed for housing affordable to people who work here in District 2, the heart of town, and we are working actively in numerous arenas to facilitate solutions to the affordable/workforce housing shortage, including funding solutions, as part of preserving our community character as not just a resort, but a real town with citizens who live, work and play here.

This year the Alliance commissioned a study of the full build out of downtown Jackson, the market factors, land costs, building costs and revenues, to get to return on investment and understand what the market needs in the way of subsidy or regulatory incentives, and to spur market driven affordable/workforce housing. This study will conclude in FY16 and inform both the rural and downtown LDRs updates.

Facilitating Public Participation

The Alliance worked to ensure that local government planning processes are open, transparent, accessible, and meaningful to the entire community. We believe our elected representatives make better decisions when citizens have timely access to information and are actively engaged. We provided notification of upcoming public meetings, researched the issues, and encouraged robust public involvement.

Watchdog

The Alliance monitors land development applications and works to ensure the proposals would result in projects aligned with our community's vision of a better future.

Bridger-Teton National Forest headquarters private property sale

The Alliance worked with the contract purchaser and Town to ensure that once the parcel becomes private property, future development will protect the natural resources of the bordering National Elk Refuge. The Alliance will also work to ensure that zoning changes and development proposals fulfill the goals and needs statements of the Comprehensive Plan for the community, subarea plans for North Cache Street, and enhance and complement the existing public uses directly adjacent to it, including the National Elk Refuge.

Snow King Development

The Alliance is working to ensure that future new development and redevelopment proposals for the individually, privately, and publicly owned properties that make up Snow King Resort Master Plan, fulfill the goals, obligations and permitting requirements of the 2000 Resort Master Plan, and enhance and complement the existing neighborhoods directly adjacent to it. If the Resort Master Plan is amended, the Alliance will work to ensure the new plan implements the 2012 Comprehensive Plan and enhances the existing neighborhoods directly adjacent to the Town as an important land resource.

This past year a new owner has acquired much of the private ownership and applied for exemptions to permits to the Bridger Teton National Forest and Town of Jackson to develop expansions to both summer and winter recreation facilities. In addition, owners of one of the privately owned large parcels asked the Town for an informal interpretation of the Snow King Resort Master Plan to allow a myriad of commercial uses not allowed by the master plan. The Alliance met with the owner's representative to encourage them to withdraw this proposal as it was not in alignment with the master plan, which then would have precipitated an amendment to that plan, which would then have triggered a likely number of unmet infrastructure obligations.

Safe Wildlife Crossings for Jackson Hole

The Wildlife Crossings program exists to achieve a 90% reduction in wildlife-vehicle collisions in Teton County while ensuring habitat connectivity across our roads.

Over the course of FY15 the Alliance engaged with its partners to structure a long-term campaign to make it safe for wildlife to cross the road. We worked on several related fronts.

First, we worked with Teton County staff and elected representatives to advocate for a County-led wildlife crossings master plan. This plan would compile objective data on animal movements and collision hot-spots and identify mitigation options and costs. It would include consultation with relevant state and federal agencies and also public involvement. Such a plan has significant benefits not available without an officially adopted plan, including opening options for state and federal funding.

Second, the Alliance worked closely with a number of groups and the Wyoming Department of Transportation (WYDOT) on the details of a series of wildlife crossings WYDOT is building as part of the S. Hwy 89 reconstruction project.

Third, the Alliance initiated some pre-construction monitoring of wildlife movements in the S. Hwy 89 corridor. Together with partners we deployed a dozen camera traps in several sites to understand species use of potential crossing locations.

Finally, we held an educational event with more than 200 attendees with Dr. Tony Clevenger, a road ecology expert who spoke about how to mitigate impacts of roads on wildlife. We also tabled at numerous local events to educate and inform people about the issue of wildlife-vehicle collisions and solutions for this problem.

Wild Neighborhoods

The Wild Neighborhoods program exists to drive a narrative in our community of “living in balance with nature” by encouraging homeowners in Jackson Hole to take proactive measures to reduce conflicts with wildlife and prepare for wildfire.

In FY15 we began laying the foundation to launch an interactive website and integrated marketing campaign to communicate and engage with homeowners in Teton County about how they can reduce wildlife conflicts and prepare for wildfire on their property.

Our partners in this program include Cougar Fund, Grand Teton National Park, Greater Yellowstone Coalition, Jackson Hole Fire/EMS, Jackson Hole Wildlife Foundation, Murie Center, Teton Interagency Fire, Teton Raptor Center, Wyoming Game & Fish, and Wyoming Wildlife Federation.

Wildlife Management

The Wildlife Management program exists to support healthy, wild, abundant, and sustainable wildlife populations through the development and advancement of a proactive wildlife agenda and ensure our wildlife and public lands are well managed based on science, facts, and data.

Alkali Creek Elk Feedground

The Bridger-Teton National Forest recently proposed approving a permit to the Wyoming Game and Fish Commission to continue supplemental feeding of elk in Alkali Creek Feedgrounds. The continued practice of feeding elk during the winter is not in line with our vision of a healthy elk population on native habitat with intact migrations. Further, the threat of disease makes feeding elk a practice fraught with danger. Together, with our conservation partners at the Greater Yellowstone Coalition, we are working with the Forest Service to find ways to improve this decision. We seek to thoughtfully reduce and ultimately eliminate this practice.

Jackson Hole Mountain Resort projects

The Jackson Hole Mountain Resort proposed several development projects from new ski runs and bike trails to various equipment upgrades as part of their master plan and use permit. We submitted scoping comments to the Forest Service requesting analysis of the impacts of these projects on wildlife, habitat and wetlands. We will continue to work with the Forest Service and Mountain Resort to ensure that we recreate in balance with nature.

Moose-Wilson Corridor Comprehensive Management Plan

The scenic and rustic Moose-Wilson road through Grand Teton National Park, with its abundant and diverse wildlife, is a treasure. The Alliance is supportive of protecting the natural resources of Grand Teton National Park and is participating in community discussions regarding transportation safety and alternatives to preserve this unique corner of the park.

The Alliance participated in the preliminary alternatives discussion of the Moose-Wilson Corridor Comprehensive Management Plan and environmental impact statement in the winter of 2014. We continue to work to ensure that preservation of park resources, human safety, and visitor experience are paramount in the planning process and public outreach.

National Elk Refuge Comprehensive Conservation Plan and Environmental Assessment

The National Elk Refuge released their draft environmental assessment and Comprehensive Conservation Plan. We worked with Refuge staff and conservation partners to ensure that this long-term conservation plan considers the impact of future climate change and includes effective strategies at the landscape level to best conserve wildlife, including options such as wildlife crossings and inter-agency coordination on land use planning and ownership.

Oil and Gas leasing in the Wyoming Range

The Bridger-Teton National Forest is currently deciding whether to open for leasing more than 40,000 acres of land in the Hoback area of the Wyoming Range to oil and gas wells. We are working with our conservation partners to ensure that this area remains free from drilling.

The Wyoming Range has some of most outstanding natural resources of the forest - from critical habitat for species like lynx, mule deer and sage grouse to outstanding hunting, fishing and recreation opportunities. It is imperative that we protect these natural resources from the negative impacts of energy exploitation.

Paddling Protection Act

State Representative Cynthia Lummis re-introduced a bill in the U.S. House of Representatives for the US National Park Service to study and permit paddling within the waters of Yellowstone and Grand Teton National Parks. The Alliance held several conversations with paddlers and conservation groups. We opposed legislation that would restrict the park service's authority and discretion to best protect park wildlife and natural values for current and future generations.

Sage Grouse Conservation Plan

The Alliance participates in the Upper Snake River Basin Local Working Group for sage grouse. This group, formed under the Governor's executive order, facilitates the implementation of local sage grouse conservation projects. We participate in discussions around core area map revisions, allocation of funds toward research and habitat restoration projects and the Jackson Hole Airport's wildlife hazard plan that affects an important sage grouse lek in the Jackson Hole valley.

Snow King Trails and development

The Bridger-Teton National Forest proposes to construct several miles of new trails and rehabilitate old ones in the Greater Snow King Area. The Alliance worked with the US Forest Service and local pathways and biking groups to help the public best understand the environmental and wildlife impacts of these new trails. This allows decisions about which trails to construct and their design to respect wildlife habitat and wetlands. We will continue to work with recreationists and forest service to ensure that well-managed recreation continues to build a constituency for our wild land protection.

Teton to Snake Fuels Reduction

The Bridger-Teton National Forest proposes various fire treatments - thinning and prescribed burning - to better manage fire west of Jackson along the Teton Range. This project includes treatments within the Palisades Wilderness study area and inventoried roadless areas. The Alliance worked with the Forest Service District ranger and fire management officer to relay concerns about respecting wilderness characteristics and wildlife impacts while balancing the need to manage fire risk and protect homes and properties in the wildland urban interface. We will continue to engage in the decision-making process as it develops.

Wolverine lawsuit

The Alliance joined several other conservation organizations in suing the US Fish and Wildlife Service for their failure to use the best available science in their decision to not list wolverines under the Endangered Species Act. The science clearly shows that climate change poses a significant threat to wolverines and their habitat. The Fish and Wildlife Service must use facts and data in their decisions.

Wyoming Game and Fish Big Game management

We continue to engage with the Wyoming Game and Fish Department (WGFD) on their management decisions around big game. This includes discussions about hunting season quotas and population objective reviews. We will continue to work with the WGFD to ensure sustainable and healthy populations of all wildlife, including but not limited to big game.

Wyoming Game and Fish Wolf Management

Prior to the US Court's judicial decision to return Wyoming's wolves to the endangered species list, we worked with the WGFD to ensure that Wyoming wolf management is based on science and best manages a recovered wolf population in northwest Wyoming. We will continue to work with Federal and State agencies to ensure that a healthy population of wolves is maintained in Wyoming.
